McFarland's BURGLAR and FIRE PROOF SAFES.

THE undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the public to the above named Safes, believing the property—proof against the two strongest temptations we are liable to—fire and burglars. MESSRS. WISE & LEACH, of the BANGOR BRICK, we would say we will give them a good, honest, and disinterested opinion of the Safes purchased of us, and if the Safes are not what we represent them to be, we will take them back and refund the money.

Our best assurance that our Safes are what we represent them to be, is the many testimonials we are daily receiving from all parts of the country, which speaks for itself. Always Read with Brick. All those who are intended directing under the Exchange House are totally consumed in that great fire of August 23d.

New York, Aug. 23, 1853

Messrs. Hay, McKee Lamb & Co

Gentlemen—I call it a pleasure to inform you that the Safe we bought of you has preserved our books and papers in the most perfect manner. Although it was exposed to the fire with burning floors and other materials falling upon it, the books were taken out in a perfect state of preservation, and we are now using them in our business. Yours truly,

B F POND & HITCHCOCK

HOT CORN.

Opinions of the Religious press

HENRY WARD BEECHER in the New York Independent says:—I set a special value upon the genuine sensible preaching which is addressed to the common people. I am now in the habit of reading the Hot Corn Tracts, and I find them admirable. They are short, simple, and to the point. They are full of good sense, and contain the very truth that is needed. I wish that every poor family in the land could have a package of them.

The Christian Intelligencer says:—We have before us a package of these tracts, and have read them with much interest. They are admirably adapted to the object for which they are published, and we hope they will be widely circulated.

From the Methodist Protestant Baltimore Md. No one can read a tract like these without feeling a strong desire to do something for the poor and wretched to whom they are the instruments of relief, and which gives force to the many testimonials we are daily receiving from all parts of the country, and which speaks for itself. Always Read with Brick. Those who are intended directing under the Exchange House are totally consumed in that great fire of August 23d.

The first cost is a economy compared other irons. If labor and despatch were counted worth of dry chance at smoothing for a while day or constant ironing. Give me a Home

Give me a home where gentle streams may wander—
The sweet green foliage all with the flowers picked around,
Let all the scene gently tell me of Paradise at night
And all the warm hospitality of a homely mouth
Let a green valley lay before my speech
And the sun rise in the morning and sweetly caress me
And let me hear the singing of birds
Let me hear the sweet music of the birds—
Let there be a home—as the bird has one crowned
Queen of the forest—as the bird has one crowned
The Lady of the House—as the bird—
Whose daily duties—as an angel—are
Our parents—Our social school from mine
Home—Oh sweet Home—sing beautiful words!
And let good cheer and joy always be mine—
Girls gentle sister—let me see the pride
Tender, sweet—give me the gladness
Kissed by whose love I shall possess
And that which best seems to be mine—
What other life shall Heaven give
Save some sweet one name I value—in the chance
Should it be the single life of a—
A few tall sheltered with me and by
Pencil bright and distant—and to bring them night—
A little bars of sunshine
Earth's greatness in the sweet virgins Life—
Kind gentle—wife—mother—sister—friend—
But if there ought to have in me
It the desire for single life—
Who teach us—and—
Will such a life, O what would be a wealth?
Of such virtues and sweetness and beauty
Oh give me a—little home—and I will
A truer temple protect the sacred

Don't tell the World

BY MRS E COCK

Three summers have gone since I first came to meet Hye
And still on every day I look to see
Cheerful step—bright eye—and heart free
With many sad care and sorrow of your head,
Ah how oft have I seen you with the tear down
And breathed a heart sweet sigh of Woe shall be?
Tell me—
Tell me—how long and how many I've wished there.
So don't tell me I would like you to sing for me.

I have imagined a home where the sacred spirit dwell,
Free from the mistletoe room, and the vine
But I cannot—in my heart I feel
And the flowers which don't all the flow to are shine.
I've a ring Thought told which I give now and then
And sigh what hope ask more, while I
There needs but the fair love—en hope and only
So I'll be a child style, I am going for it

Mourning for the Dead.

Among the many absurd customs that the imitation of time and the arbitrary laws of society have rendered it a disposition there is not one that is so much abused, and to which reason and so fondly refuse, as that of wearing mourning for the dead!—from the ostentatious public mourning appropriated by sovereigns to the loss of their rulers down to the black badge, worn by the humblest peasant for the death of parent or child. In every instance a feeling of respect is mistaken for a feeling of sorrow, and hollowed by the most solemn religious rites, appears almost sacrilegious.

There is something so beautiful so pastoral, so sacred in the outward sign of a deep and heartfelt sorrow, that it deprives the habit of its sable habiliments—that a melancholy hearse the funeral plumes, sombre pall, and long array of dress pomp might clad mourners, together with the awful danger of the dead bell—would rob the stern majesty of our nature of half its terrors and tend more by to destroy that religious dread which is so imposing and which affords such a solemn lesson to the living. Absence is the speed of all this black parade. In fact is reproved by Him who has, in wisdom, appointed death to pass upon all men. Were it experience confined to the human species, we might have more reason for these extravagant demonstrations of grief; but in every object around us we see inscribed the mysterious law of change. The very breast tree that has drank down of heaven's bright in the sunlight, and shook its branches at a breeze's storm, see as the sere and withered destiny and time in its last way to the dust. Life lives upon death, and all its reproduces life through endless circles of living from the pitiful tyrant's down to the lowest worm which has itself been a tenant in the grave. Even a rotten and old tree hang on this back frame for those who see beyond the laws of change and chance! It has no chemical and waste of decay which have not their use with its superstitious terrors that we would have restored. The leaves resting from the tree and apple plants forms a back ground whose gloom throws out the light of life to the living. And why, we ask, should death be invested with such horrors? Death, in itself is not dreadful, it is but an change of one mode of being for another—the dreaming form of the winged soul from its earthly chrysalis!

Like the Angels.—"Why you would have me like the angels," exclaimed a young girl with whom a friend had been talking.

"Why would we have woman like the angels. And why no? Is it any harm to be like an angel? We read that they are very beautiful—full of love, truth, purity, compassionate, sinless. Are these forbidding traits. Angels slander not each other. They have no circles in their glorious home where characters are picked to pieces. Angels never wreath the faces with smiles when envy is gnawing the very heart-strings in twain. Angels never rejoice over the downfall of another. Angels lure not with the eye, then coldly cast off with the lip. Angels suffer not passion to paint the brow dark with discontent and hatred.

Would you not wish eventually, to become angels? Or does it in thought never enter with the multitude that cross the mind's threshold? We not, prepare then, for this high destination? Why not discipline the soul as thoughts, and beautiful in good deeds? Cultivate your affections, be pure in thought, gentle in spirit—Banish forever deception, evil speaking slanderous love and pleasure! Why not become angelic now you may or, angels on earth! Ah! young ladies, believe us when we tell you there is no harm in striving to be like the angels

Not Bad.—In the New York Independent, we find the following from a mother:—

"But did I ever tell you what a time I had with my little Joe?"

"No, what was it?"

"Why, I was showing him a picture of the martyrs thrown to the lions, and was talking very solemnly to him, trying to make him feel very solemnly the thing it was. 'Ma,' said he, 'what a terrible thing it was. Ma,' said he, all at once, 'oh, ma! just look at that poor little lion way behind there, he won't get any!'

The New York Tribune thinks that aristocracy does not bear showing up any where. Even thought it escape negro, blood, it stumbles over a cobbler's awl, though, or an old woman's apple stall, and in fact in every ordinary crock-way at least.

Caucus on this Evening.

A call, numerously and very respectably signed, has been published for several days, for a Caucus to be held on this evening, at the City Hall for the purpose of making a nomination of a Maine Law Candidate for Mayor of this city.

We have no favorite to put forward, but only desire that a man shall be nominated, who, if elected, shall faithfully discharge the duties of his office for the benefit of the public, as we feel strongly impressed that there never has been a year when it was more important to have an efficient Mayor and City Government, than the present.

The nomination that shall be made on this evening, will probably, as usual, be ratified by a Whig Caucus, to be held in some ward of the present week, and, if acceptable, will be adopted.

☞ The anti Nebraska meeting at Augusta on Thursday last was well attended by men of influence. Hon. Anson P. Morrill was elected President and the following named

A series of resolutions were passed, and eloquent addresses made.

The Kennebec Journal says that a letter was read from George M. Weston Esq., of Bangor, formerly editor of the Augusta Age, and a more recently of the Bangor Democrat. Mr. W. has long been known as a "National Democrat," so called, and was an original anti-extension supporter of the annexation of Texas, and of the compromise of 1850—a man of high ability, and of extensive influence with his party. He now declares in the most unequivocal terms his opposition to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise not only as a dangerous renewal of the slavery agitation, but as a gross violation of the solemn compact of 1820, and a breach of the Compromise of 1850. His letter will have much influence in the right quarter.

The sentiment developed at the Convention, upon the question at issue, is undoubtedly a sentiment of a large majority of the people of this State—that a repeal of the compact of 1820, at this day, will be a gross violation of good faith towards the north—and one which, if perpetrated, will relieve us from all obligation to stand hereafter by any compact on which may favor slavery.

☞ Rev S. H. Merrill of Oldtown, delivered on Friday evening, before the Bangor Mechanics' Association, a most interesting and instructive lecture on the subject of the Human Imagination. On account of the storm the audience was not as large as usual, but those who were present enjoyed a delightful session in a rare intellectual treat, very happily illustrated by apt quotations, showing the difference between Imagination and Fancy, with which it is often confounded. The Reverend lecturer considered Henry Clay as the best American specimen of a well-cultivated imagination, and John Milton the best English specimen.

The directors of the Providence and Worcester Railroad have passed a vote that all the settled clergymen residing on the line of the road, including those at Providence and Worcester be furnished with free passes over the road the ensuing year.

THE MEXICAN WAR.—A meeting of about twenty-five gentlemen who held commands during the Mexican war, was held at N. York Wednesday, to take into consideration the propriety of applying for additional rations to those allowed during that war. The facts in the case are contained in the following paragraph from a report in the New York Times:

"The Chairman adverted to certain facts to show that they were justly entitled to a ration in addition to the one received during the war. The rations allowed were to each twenty cents per day; when the actual facts were that the rations cost thirty cents, and often times more than double the amount allowed. The movement had been commenced in the West, among the officers there, and similar efforts were being made in different parts of the U. States. It was well known that General Scott had stated that, in consideration of these facts, he would recommend to Congress that an additional ration be appropriated. The subject had been introduced to the Senate, and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs, and that Committee was now ready to report. The Chairman thought that if a general movement was made among those interested, he had no doubt that a majority of the members of Congress would support the bill."

A committee was appointed to present its Washington, and urge the measure before the proper committees.

MONTPELIER, Vt., March 2.

The State Convention here in this town today, opposed to the Nebraska Bill, was numerously attended, embracing influential citizens from all parts of the State, irrespective of political opinions. Eloquent speeches were made and spirited resolutions unanimously adopted, denouncing the proposed measure.

Washington Gossip.

The Correspondent of the New York Courier writes:—

The Prince John Van Buren and his followers have passed the Rubicon. He goes upon an armed war and not of peace, and he is aboring in open opposition to the agents of the Executive for the defeat of the Nebraska Bill. And the President, with the cunning mongrel politicians who surround him, seems as anxious to cast the Soft Shells, as they are to repudiate any share of responsibility for his more recent course. The Douglas movement appears to have been cordially adopted by all the members of the Cabinet but Mr. Marcy, and the personal and intimate friends of that Minister affirm that he acquiesced only after a quiet protest against it as a measure likely to distract the party and the country.

The position of the New York Democrats is simply this. There are eight Hard Shells who feel almost compelled by their antecedents to support the proposed repeal of the Missouri Compromise. But some of them are by no means satisfied with the measure, and but for their hatred of the Administration would be among its warmest opponents. Mr Cutting and Mr. Wheeler represent constituencies, which, from interest and principle are alike hostile to repudiation of public compacts.

Mr Maurice, Mr. Peckham, and other Hard Shell members have lately returned from visiting their districts where they have received evidence of public sentiment against this bill which they to not feel at liberty to disregard. Under these embarassing circumstances two Hard Shell caucuses have been held by all the members of that sect, except Hon. M. Walsh, and it is said, by a few Democrats outside of New York, who sympathize with them. Beside the Hard Shell progeny, Mr. Taylor of Chenango, and Mr. Walker are reckoned in favor of the Bill, making ten votes from New York.

* * * * *

The Softs, reciprocating the animosity of the native deal are that they accept the issue, and will go and Gen. Pierce and his faction to powder within a twelvemonth. Mr. Vanderbilt of Brooklyn, and a number of other "Hard Shells" of property and influence, are here, doing all they can to promote a fusion of the two sections pro hac vice; with the object of defeating the bill. The matter had been reduced so nearly to a point that it is believed the votes of the ten or more doubtful New York members, if given in the negative, will kill the bill.

John Van Buren has been labored with since his arrival by one gentleman of the White House, who assured him that the President was "for the Nebraska bill." "I'm sorry to hear it," replied John—"I don't believe the Democratic party's for it."

From the Express. On the Nebraska bill the leading Northern Administration members reason thus:—"Let us vote on the safe side,—that is on Badcombe. Pierce pays Northern Free Soilism better than Northern Nationalism. So to secure the White House, and Buncombe, too,—let us swim with the current North."

The fact is the administration has denounced itself by the character of its Federal appointments.

Again No thirty Democratic members have at hear no confidence in, and great contempt for the Southern leaders, who deserted them in the Compromise of 1850, and who, doubtless, would do the same in 1854. If they go on, they run, and make light, the Southern Democracy will sell out again for Federal Office.

Foreign Items.

It is now clear that the future operations against Kalafat will be undertaken from Bolenchti, rather than from Lo[illegible]ran, although this last place, which is a most important position at the confluence of the Carpathians will be strongly garrisoned. Radowa is another town and village, but merely in the line with the two last, situated on the last rising ground on the road from Krajova to Kalafat.—It is supposed that the spot is very strongly fortified, but nothing positive is known on the subject, as the Russians permit no one to approach it.

Three Russian regiments have been so cut up that they must be completely re-organized before they can again take the field. Up to the 27th the Russian corps had formed a semi-circle, the extent of which was about 35 English miles, around the Turkish position at Kalafat. Early on the morning of the 28th, there was a general advance on the part of the Russians, and in the evening of the same day the right wing had left Citale about 7 English miles to the rear. The centre met with considerable resistance, but when the infantry came up the Turks retired to their entrenchments; the left wing has taken a position in the neighborhood of Beleschti. The general attack on Kalafat must now depend on the state of the weather alone, as all the troops which are to be employed in this peril us enterprise are on the spot. The Russians have now 81,000 foot 12,000 horse; 8,000 sappers and miners, and 128 guns, in Little Wallachia. The reserve at Slatowatz to amount to 16,000 men. General Schilders is to have the whole an[illegible] direction of the projected passage of the Danube, but there will be hardly any change in the supreme command of the troops.

A letter from Widdyn of the 27th ult. states that on the 23th there was a sanguinary conflict between the Turks and the Russians near Bolesuhti. After the affair both parties returned to their former positions.

The following despatch speaks positively of a late conflict.

BELGRADE, Feb. 3.

A serious fight took place at Tojana on the 30th ult which was attended with great loss on both sides. The Turks retreated to Kalafat.

It is believed that a sanguinary engagement took place at Giurgevo on Sunday, the 5th instant, in which both sides suffered severe loss. The Turks, it is said, crossed the Danube in number three thousand, drove in the outposts, and attempted to take the town. In the end they withdrew across the Danube.

A Turkish detachment having passed the Danube in the night, destroyed the last fir point of the South, between Galatz and Ibrailla, which was defended by two thousand Russians. The combat was fierce, and the Russians, who were inferior in numbers were compelled to abandon the position. The Turks destroyed the enemy's large new barracks.

After a few remarks by Dr Weeks of Freeport, the committee on Business reported the following resolutions:

Resolved That there is no political issue before the people of this State of greater magnitude than the perpetuity and vigorous enforcement of the Maine Law, and that the experience of the past should teach us to discard all party interests and party ties, and use all fair honorable means to secure a State administration which shall regard the statute as a vital principle of its existence and power, and use its moral and official influence, to destroy one of the greatest evils that curses modern civilization.

Resolved That the coming political campaign in this State will be of no less importance than have been its immediate predecessors—that the Temperance men of Maine are pledged to one another and to the cause to vote for no man whose antecedents are not right on the question of the Maine Law; that while we welcome all new recruits to a common participation in our labors and triumphs, it will still be wise to keep the helm in tried hands.

Resolved, That if the medicinal and mechanical use of alcoholic liquors can be dispensed with, and all recognition of property in intoxicating drinks be removed from our laws, the greatest remaining obstacle to the complete triumph of the temperance cause will be overcome, and we commend this question to the careful and earnest attention of the people of this State.

Resolved, That the Temperance Journals, under the care of our well-tried and faithful brother Peck, is a discreet and eminently able advocate of our great cause; and inasmuch as the Press is the great power of modern times in renovating and organizing Public Sentiment, it becomes the first duty of the temperance men of Maine to be vigilant in extending its circulation.

The resolutions were discussed by the following gentlemen:—Rev John Allen, Dr Ezekiel Holmes. On motion of Dr Holmes, the third resolution was amended by the insertion of the word "unscientific" after the word "medicinal."

The resolutions were further discussed by Messrs Moore of Greene, Wiley of Portland, Stevens of Biddeford, Lincoln of Hallowell, Davis of Belfast, Cone of ——, Eaton of Readfield, Fessenden and Peck of Portland.

On motion of Mr Wiley of Portland, the first resolution was recommitted to the business committee.

XXXIId CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 2.

SENATE.

Mr Stuart, from the committee on Public Lands, asked to be discharged from the consideration of the memorial praying for a grant for a ship canal around Niagara Falls.

Numerous remonstrances were presented against the Nebraska bill.

The Indigent Insane Bill was then taken up and debated. After some discussion, it was again postponed, and the Nebraska bill taken up, when Mr Clayton resumed his remarks.

He was opposed to many provisions of the bill, and especially that one establishing the Legislative Council, for which he desired to substitute the act of 1845, which denied to the Legislature any power whatever, over the subject of slavery. He again denied the constitutionality of the Missouri Compromise, and quoted from a speech of John Quincy Adams on the Arkansas bill, wherein ground was taken that Congress had no power to refuse admission to a State because her Constitution recognized slavery. He was opposed to the further annexation of territory, and, thought if the Union was ever wrecked, it would be upon its territory.

The debate was continued by Messrs Chase, Badger, and others.

HOUSE.

A Bill was introduced granting the right of way for three railroads across public land from commercial points in California and Oregon. Referred to Committee on Railroads.

Mr Ballard asked leave to introduce a series of resolutions requesting the President to open negotiations with Peru, either for the purchase of one of the Chincha Islands, or for the abolition of the Guanian monopoly. Not granted.

The House then went into Committee on the Homestead bill.

A amendment to the Homestead bill, proposing to charge 25 cents per acre, instead of donating lands, was rejected.

A amendment providing that the bill shall not go into effect until one year after its passage, in order, as the mover said, to prevent the people of the West from stepping in at once and selecting the best lands, was also rejected.

Before disposing of the bill, the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

"The Glory of Man and the Graceful Ornament of Woman."

Who is there more glorious or more beautiful than a fine, luxuriant head of hair on either man or woman? And when those rich treasures of woman begin to decay by disease, how important that we have some preventive or cure! There are a thousand different preparations brought into use, purporting to prevent hair from falling off, or causing a new growth when the head has become bald; but all of little or no use, and very often injuring the diseased roots more than doing them good. But there is a article which has recently been discovered in New York, which WILL prevent Hair from falling out, and it never fail to produce a good growth of Hair on heads that have become bald. We have one case in Boston of an elderly lady who has used it and who is willing to certify to the truth of the above. And to induce people to try it, the Wholesale Agent of Bangor offers for a reasonable sum to guarantee a good head of Hair on any one who will try it thoroughly, in three months time, or no charge for the article. Now, come one, come all, it costs you nothing to try it! The preparation is called HURDIS HAIR RESTORER. Read the following certificate from a gentleman well known in this city, as well as New York:

NEW YORK, Dec. 9, 1853.

Mr. Hurd—Dear Sir—I have been bald for the past five years and as my father's and grandfather's family were bald as an early age, it was considered hereditary, and thought impossible to produce new hair on my head, and indeed every thing failed, until I was induced to use your Hair Restorer. I commenced using it about six weeks ago, and where my head was then bald it is now covered with a vigorous growth of new hair, and there is no doubt it will produce hair on any bald head.

Yours truly, C. FARAND,
Daguerreotypist, 332 Broadway.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

The debate on the Nebraska bill was continued in the Senate until five o'clock this morning, when the final vote was taken and the bill passed by yeas 37, nays 14, as follows:

Yeas—Messrs Adams, Atchison, Badger, Barard, Benjamin, Bradhead, Brown, Cass, Clay, Dawson, Dixon, Dodge of Iowa, Douglas Evans, Fitzpatrick, Geier, Gwin, Hunter, Johnson, Jones of Iowa, Jones of Texas, Mason, Morton, Norris, Pettit, Pratt, Rusk, Sebastian, Shields, Siddell, Stuart, Thompson of N. York, Thompson of Ky., Toomey, Walker, Williams.

Nays—Messrs. Bell, Chase, Dodge of Wis., Fessenden, Fish, Foot, Hamlin, Houston, James, Seward, Smith, Sumner, Wade, and Walker.

Bright, Toombs, and Mallory were absent but would have voted for the bill. Mr. Allen was absent from sickness in his family, but would have voted against it. Messrs. Pearce, Everett, Cooper and Wright did not vote.

The title of the bill was changed to "A bill for the government of Nebraska and Kansas."

Mr Cass said, I congratulate the Senate on the triumphs of the squatter sovereignty. Adjourned till Tuesday.

REPORTED SUICIDE OF DR GARDINER.—A Despatch in our columns states that Dr Gardiner, of Mexican mine notoriety, tried at Washington for obtaining money by half a million from the Commissioners on Mexican claims, had been found guilty, and sentenced to ten years imprisonment. A despatch to the Exchange, Reading Room states that Dr Gardiner committed suicide yesterday afternoon in his cell. Our own correspondent makes no mention of the affair.—Boston Journal, 4th.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

The Washington Star says that the Senate is really going to institute inquiries in regard to the publication of the Gadsden treaty and other secret documents, and that a number of newspaper editors from New York and elsewhere will be summoned to Washington.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4.

At a large meeting of the Democracy of the Sixth Ward, last night, Senator Douglas was unanimously denounced for betraying his party. They determined not to support the State nominees at the Harrisburgh Convention on the 30th instant, who refuse to denounce the Nebraska bill.

SPILLED.—Five hundred gallons of liquors were spilled yesterday by our city express.—Portland Advertiser, 6th.

We learn from the Advertiser that an Irishman named Dolan sold liquor to a boy on Tuesday. In the evening the boy was found drunk and taken to the watch house, but disclosing where he got his liquor, was discharged. Dolan's premises were searched and nine packages of liquors found. Dolan was accordingly arraigned on two complaints—one for selling to the boy, to which he plead guilty and paid the fine. The other was for keeping liquor, on which he was adjudged guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $22 and to imprisonment. He was locked up.

☞ A bill has been reported in the United States Senate, granting to James Eddy of Portland and Hiram O. Alden of Belfast, 400 million acres of land, to build a telegraph line from the Mississippi river to San Francisco. The land warrants not to be issued till the line is completed; the government to have the privilege of sending by it 8000 words of mon free forever; and each more not to be charged over ten dollars for ten words.

☞ The regular mail packet steamer Niagara having been withdrawn from the line and put at the service of the British government, the next mail from Liverpool will be forwarded by this steam propeller Arabia which is to sail from Liverpool for Boston February 15th, and now fully due.

☞ To the Ladies.—Hurd's Golden Hair Dress, for the Hair, in a preparation which has an equal, it is highly perfumed, and imparts the fragrance of the most delightful flowers. It makes the hair and causes it to grow through scurfy, preventing it from falling off or turning grey. It relieves dandruff, or worm eruptions burnings, and all diseases of the scalp skin, as well as insanity. It has cured millions and sold by druggists by a single application. Ladies you know its value—therefore expect will never be without it. Price 25 cts. W. S. HURD Proprietor, 334 Broadway, New York. IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber (late Agent of the U S Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to prevent advantages in applying for patents superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby any applications prepared and conducted by him (HENRY ELLIS, Late U S Examiner) recently, as will back by which he will be enabled by him in case of Caveats to obtain a specification and the utmost benefit from his application the day they are received for rejection. Inventors can promptly here obtain their specifications on the most favorable terms, (at less usual charges) by one of the experience of 20 years practice, a extensive library of legal and mechanical works and correct assertion of patents granted in this and other countries, no idea being saved apparently in Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

C. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents R H Eddy was employed by applicants at the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much as myself or the Patent Office and there were none who conducted it with more skill fidelity and universal regard. Mr Eddy is one of the best informed and most able Patent Solicitor in the United States and I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure to them as early and favorable consideration at the earliest date.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

DR KENNEDY, of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple—He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases both of which have since been cured. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the worst kind of blotches on the face.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure rheumatism, the sore and kidneys among the first.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure any eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of scurvy.

A short time will experience from the first bottle and a perfect cure is warranted when the above directions are complied.

Nothing looks more desirable to those who have in vain tried the wonderful medicines of the day, than a good common weed, growing on the pasture and by old stone walls should cure every humor in the system, yet I know it is a fact. It can have at once a trial at my store. There are hundreds now suffering with it, it is nothing some call it, but rely upon it I decided over a thousand better cases in the city of Boston I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I wish all to call on or send your children whose flesh was rotten and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle

To those who are sick and ill to a sick headache, one bottle will cure it. It gives great relief in a short time. Some who have suffered have been sick for years, and have been confined to my store for years, and have been confined to my store for years, and have been confined to my store
